

A Very Special Invitation...

“Hi-Touch Communications in a Hi-Tech Era,
Crisis Communications and Media Response Training for Today’s Leaders”

August 5, 2019

9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Guam Homeland Security

Cost: $175

The National Weather Service and Guam Homeland Security are pleased to invite you to participate in an important and timely seminar presented by Richard Brundage, a widely recognized international crisis communications expert, former television news anchor and author of the critically acclaimed book, “The Heart In Communicating”, and the upcoming novel, “The 5 O’clock Follies.”

This seminar prepares your key communicators for any media appearance. In an era where messages move at the speed of light, and any response can be a global statement, Brundage teaches crisis communications as “the demonstration of leadership.” Selected by the State Department to train new U.S. Ambassadors, his message extends far beyond responding to the media – it is “new millennium thinking” about how we communicate with each other.

Learn:

- What “image” is and how to instill confidence in your audience in a 12-second sound bite.
- How to formulate a message that cannot be taken out of context.
- What your body language says about you and your organization.
- How to “humanize” your organization in a critical situation.
- Intensive group preparation and actual on-camera performance techniques used by the pros.
- More than 50 techniques for improving your performance in any appearance.

You will learn from one of the most sought-after speakers today in media and public response communications.

Because of the highly interactive nature of this seminar, seating will be limited to the first 50 registrants, so please fill out the enclosed registration form and return it to us by fax or mail at your earliest convenience.

Please consider this our personal invitation to pre-register at least two of your leadership personnel in this extraordinary workshop. The cost is only $175 per person and includes all of the handout materials.

For more information, please call (Genevieve C. Miller, Meteorologist-In-Charge, 671-472-0944) or email genevieve.miller@noaa.gov.

Sincerely,

Genevieve C. Miller

Richard Brundage

Richard Brundage is widely recognized as an international crisis communications expert. He is an award winning television director, former anchor, correspondent and author of the critically acclaimed book, “The Heart In Communicating”, and the upcoming novel, “The 5-O’clock Follies.”

His "live-on-camera" seminar, “Risk Communications and Media Response Training for Today's Leaders” has received standing ovations around the world. . From medical, corporate, legal and educational professionals to government, association executives, and industry leaders, Brundage has trained some of the nation's top executives with his insightful, intensive and practical techniques. His uniquely supportive workshops yield immediate and lasting results for all who participate.

Selected by the State Department to train new U.S. Ambassadors, he was the only crisis communicator in North America to be featured in the 60-minute television special, "Global Risk Management". His message extends far beyond responding to the media: It is “new millennium thinking” about how we all communicate with each other.

9:00 am Opening Remarks & Introductions: Host

9:10 am Section I: Participants will learn:

Stories from a lifetime of work in front of and behind the cameras.
The power of communicating when you don't have to.
How to capture 87% of your audience in the first 5 seconds.
Exercises that create image and impressions
How to "humanize" your organization in any situation.
The 4 Instant Lessons of a media interview or speech
The reporter's agenda vs. yours.
How to handle confrontational interviews or audience questions.
The 6 "C's" of professional media responding.
The two leading character traits viewers look for in a respondent.
Pre-interview techniques to insure a good sound bite.
Theme and bridging techniques to make sure your agenda is heard
The "Cardinal Rule of Crisis Communications".

10:30 am Morning Break

10:45 am Section II: Participants will learn:

"Fact Sheets"; how to write them and make sure they are used.
The magic "12 second" window and how it works for you.
A look at how newsrooms operate and how decisions are made.
Differences between television, radio and newspaper interviews.
Creating your "Image"; how and when to do it.
Writing for the "ear", not the eye.
How to provide balance to the story - every time.
"Practice makes perfect" exercises for the senior executive.
How to make sure your message is clearly understood.
23 techniques for improving your performance in any media or public appearance
